CENTRAL SOUTH--RESIDENTIAL DISTRICT

The Central South District is generally bounded by the alley between West 6th and West 7th Streets on the south, the alley between 9th and 10th Streets and between 6th and 7th Streets on the north, West Street on the west and Court and Grand Streets on the east. This District contains portions of the original platted City of Pueblo and the State Addition to Pueblo. The City was platted in 1869 and the State Addition was recorded in 1878. The area contains a number of small residential structures which were originally occupied by railway workers. The District adjoins the railyards and railway oriented industry on the south and west. Most of these structures were constructed between 1900-1910. The area was first mapped by the Sanborn Insurance Company in 1886-89-93.
